Source and short publication history: This eBook reproduces the revised and extended edition of Avatar Meher Baba Bibliography, published in 2009 on the Avatar Meher Baba Trust web site. The original (print) edition was published by J. Flagg Kris (New Delhi) in 1978.

The Avatar Meher Baba Trust's eBooks aspire to be textually exact though non-facsimile reproductions of published books, journals and articles. With the consent of the copyright holders, these online editions are being made available through the Avatar Meher Baba Trust's web site, for the research needs of Meher Baba's lovers and the general public around the world.

Again, the eBooks reproduce the text, though not the exact visual likeness, of the original publications. They have been created through a process of scanning the original pages, running these scans through optical character recognition (OCR) software, reflowing the new text, and proofreading it. Except in rare cases where we specify otherwise, the texts that you will find here correspond, page for page, with those of the original publications: in other words, page citations reliably correspond to those of the source books. But in other respects—such as lineation and font—the page designs differ. Our purpose is to provide digital texts that are more readily downloadable and searchable than photo facsimile images of the originals would have been. Moreover, they are often much more readable, especially in the case of older books, whose discoloration and deteriorated condition often makes them partly illegible. Since all this work of scanning and reflowing and proofreading has been accomplished by a team of volunteers, it is always possible that errors have crept into these online editions. If you find any of these, please let us know, by emailing us at frank@ambppct.org.

The aim of the Trust's online library is to reproduce the original texts faithfully. In certain cases, however—and this applies especially to some of the older books that were never republished in updated versions—we have corrected certain small errors of a typographic order. When this has been done, all of these corrections are listed in the "Register of Editorial Alterations" that appears at the end of the digital book. If you want the original text in its exact original form, warts and all, you can reconstruct this with the aid of the "register."

The Trust's Online Library remains very much a work in progress. With your help and input, it will increase in scope and improve in elegance and accuracy as the years go by. In the meantime, we hope it will serve the needs of those seeking to deepen and broaden their own familiarity with Avatar Meher Baba's life and message and to disseminate this good news throughout the world.

AVATAR MEHER BABA
A Short Biographical Sketch
By ADI K. IRANI

Born in Poona, India, on February 25, 1894, Merwan S. Irani, known as Meher Baba, received His education in the town of His birth. As a boy He is said to have been both active and gentle, mischievous and unselfish. His loving nature made Him popular among His friends and acquaintances. He excelled in sports and took a great interest in literature and poetry.

While studying at the Deccan College, Poona, at the age of 19, He was touched and blessed by one of the Perfect Masters of the age, Hazrat Babajan of Poona. She transformed His life so completely that Meher Baba lost human consciousness and became merged in the Ocean of Divine Love.

Another of the God-realized Masters, Upasni Maharaj of Sakori, brought Meher Baba down to the level of human consciousness, making Him fully equipped with the all pervading knowledge of Creation and preparing Him for His role as the Avatar of the Age. This Avataric mission started in 1921 with the gathering together of His first disciples, who gave Him the name "Meher Baba" or "Compassionate Father."

Soon after, Meher Baba started a colony near Arangaon, about six miles from Ahmednagar, called Meherabad, where He had a tuition-free school admitting boys of all castes and creeds, and a boarding school called the Prem Ashram for those boys who were most intense in their love for the God-Man. In addition, He established a free dispensary and shelters for the poor.

Meher Baba told His disciples that from July 10, 1925, He would observe silence. From that day He maintained this Silence, even till the relinquishing of His body on January 31, 1969. His many spiritual discourses and messages have been dictated by means of an alphabet board. On October 7, 1954, Meher Baba discontinued the use of the alphabet board and reduced all communication to unique hand gestures interpreted by His disciples.

The history of man's search for his Self has produced few original works dealing with the technique for the Self's discovery. Meher Baba's Discourses are a major contribution to that small body of literature. In this work, given to His close disciples in the period 1938-1943, He describes the means for incorporating daily life into one's spiritual ongoing. In His classic work, God Speaks, Me her Baba describes in detail the theme and purpose of Creation. It is dedicated "To the Universe-the Illusion that sustains Reality." The following lines are quoted from the beginning of

God Speaks

I am not come to establish any cult, society or organisation; nor even to establish a new religion. The religion that I shall give teaches the knowledge of the One behind the many. The book that I shall make people read is the book of the heart that holds the key to the mystery of life...

A persistent theme of Meher Baba's ministration in India, especially in the 1940's, had been the contacting of God-intoxicated souls, known as masts (pronounced musts). These are advanced pilgrims on the spiritual path who have become spiritually intoxicated from direct awareness of God. In The Wayfarers, by Dr. William Donkin, these contacts and visits have been recorded, and Meher Baba also contributed messages revealing the states of God-intoxication and its spiritual significance. Other vital work had been the washing of the lepers, the washing the feet of thousands of poor, and the distribution of grain and cloth to the destitute.

Meher Baba travelled to the Western World many times and visited several countries. His first of six visits to the United States was in 1931. Meher Baba also journeyed extensively throughout India by train, car, bullock cart, and foot, giving His darshan and messages of Love and Truth to thousands of His followers.

Meher Baba devoted most of His time during the last years of His life to intense work in seclusion. He said that one of the main purposes of His last seclusion of a year and a half's duration, during 1967-1968, was to give His Love to the world. It was during this period that the fire of enthusiasm in Avatar Meher Baba's message of Love and Truth began to spread. Today more and more people are coming to recognize and to feel Avatar Meher Baba as the Personification of God and the Divine Spiritual Awakener of our era. In one of His messages, Meher Baba stated:

I was Rama. I was Krishna, I was this One, I was that One, and now I am Meher Baba. In this form of flesh and blood, I am that same Ancient One who alone is eternally worshipped and ignored, ever remembered and forgotten. I am that Ancient One whose past is worshipped and remembered, whose present is ignored and forgotten, and whose future (Advent) is anticipated with great fervour and longing.

PREFACE

Scope. As the title suggests, this is a bibliography of works by and about Meher Baba in English and other European languages, covering the years 1928 through February 25, 1978. A glance in the index will show numerous titles listed under Meher Baba as author, but it should be noted that Baba stopped writing on January 1, 1927. All of these titles are actually transcriptions, compilations, selections, and excerpts from Baba's discourses and messages given over the years by means of the alphabet board and later by gestures. The material is best described as having been "written under Baba's name."

Most of the entries are in English, with a few in other European languages. However, several titles are actually bi- or multilingual and were included if one of the languages was English. The other European languages represented are Czech, French, German, Russian, and Spanish; the Indic languages included, from the multilingual material, are Gujarati, Hindi, Marathi, Tamil, and Telugu. To find listings for these languages, check the index under the name of the language.

The date of coverage was extended, from the earliest publication in 1928, through Meher Baba's birthday, February 25, 1978, which allowed the inclusion of several works appearing in the first quarter of 1978.

An attempt was made to see an actual copy of every title in the bibliography, but this proved impossible. Thus, entries are given with as much information as was available, and those items not actually seen are noted "unavailable for review." Undoubtedly some incorrect information has been presented in this way, but it was opted for error on the side of inclusion rather than omission.

Intended omissions are non-European language material, very ephemeral items, such as brochures, broadsides, posters, and works dedicated to or inspired by Meher Baba but which contain no direct reference to Him. Periodical articles have also been omitted.

Arrangement. The entry element for all items is under title. The arrangement of the titles, as well as index entries, is straight alphabetic, letter by letter, word by word. Titles beginning with numbers are filed before other entries in numerical sequence; numbers spelled out as words are filed alphabetically. Entries with exactly the same title are subarranged by subtitle, author, or place of publication, as appropriate.

Format of Entry. The form of entry follows a slightly modified version of the International Standard Bibliographic Description, as adopted by the library world in general and by many national bibliographies. The unusual punctuation is part of the standard and should not cause any problems in reading the citations. The number in the upper right-hand corner of each entry is simply a control number for internal record keeping.

The double asterisk (**) before some control numbers is an indication that the item was commercially published or is otherwise available for purchase (and thought to be still in print). The symbol was added to this category of material to distinguish it from the bulk of entries which were issued for limited distribution among followers of Meher Baba or have gone out of print.

Sections. The bibliography is divided into four sections by format: monographs, serials, sound recordings, and motion pictures. The monograph section (that is, material not published serially) contains 381 titles, including books, pamphlets, prayers, calendars, diaries, playbills and scripts, commemorative volumes, children's books, and analytics (chapters on Baba contained in books not about Baba). Twenty-three periodicals relating to Meher Baba are listed in the serials section, including newsletters of various Baba groups. The sound recording section contains 14 phonograph records, mostly songs and music inspired by Meher Baba. The 44 films included under motion pictures offer views of Meher Baba, His Mandali (close disciples and followers. Separate entries have not been given when a film was issued in more than one dimension, e.g. 16mm. and super 8mm., but notes are provided in such cases. Unfortunately, none of the films were available for reviewing while editing the entries, consequently the bibliographic information was taken from lists of films at Meherazad (Ahmednagar).

Index. Since all entries in the main sections are under title, the index includes all other access points: authors, co-authors, editors, compilers, illustrators, publishers and producers (if obviously Meher Baba-oriented), series, variant and additional titles, languages, and selected subject headings. Note that the exact relationship of a title listed under a person or organization can only be ascertained by referring to the citation in the main sequence. Few subjects are given, since all the works relate to Meher Baba in some way, and listing everything under Baba as subject would not be very useful. Only when a work specifically covered an aspect of Baba's teachings or life, described itself as biographical, or dealt with a special happening, gathering, or location, were subjects assigned. Form headings were also given for special types of material, such as "calendars & diaries," "playbills & programs," "songs & artis," "poetry," "drama," etc. All subjects are given in capital letters. Cross references are given for variant names, titles, subjects, from cities where organizations are located, and for anything under which the user might search for a work.

Acknowledgements. Special appreciation goes to the many followers of Meher Baba who volunteered to help Bal Natu to type and organize preliminary lists and citations. A vast amount of technical advice and help has come from the editor's friends and colleagues at the U. S. Library of Congress Office in New Delhi, who have been more than generous with their personal time, making it possible for this manuscript to get through the printing stage.

Adi K. Irani, one of Baba's closest disciples, was most kind to write the introductory life-sketch of Meher Baba.

To help put this bibliography into its true perspective, the following quotes of Meher Baba, conveyed through His graceful gestures, are offered to emphasize His concern for awakening our hearts rather than producing still more words

"I have come not to teach but to awaken.
If my Silence cannot be heard, of what avail words?"

PREFACE TO REVISED & EXTENDED EDITION

Revisions.

It is no easy task to revise another's bibliography due to uncertainty, since it isn't guaranteed that the same texts as reported are being located and examined. Thus we have dealt gingerly with the original text in respect to revisions. No entries have added or deleted from the original Avatar Meher Baba Bibliography, so any item with an index prior to February 1978 will be attributable to Bal Natu and J Flagg Kris, a very competent cataloger whom we can only hope to emulate. Every effort was made to review the texts and other materials to which they did not have access; notes have been added regarding reprintings and availability in other formats; series entries closed when title was no longer being published; and uniform titles added for translated works. However, subsequent or prior editions of any listed title published pre-1978 have not been added. Revisions are noted by "Rev." in the index and/or "Reviewed" in references.

Scope.

Scope of the edited additions is strictly from the 1st quarter 1978 to present (2009). This update makes no claims to comprehensiveness, rather it is a selection of around 600 titles published since the previous edition, approximately doubling the bibliography in extent. Although the compilation might be weighted towards more recent works, as older items were difficult to find, each year of coverage in each format is represented. A limited number of books for children have been selected from a far larger set which might be deemed within the scope. Relevance is often difficult to determine and it is hoped that any titles omitted could someday be listed in a reader's advisory of some sort. Similar considerations apply as well to poetry, performances and song inspired by Baba's life and work. As previously: ephemera, encyclopedia entries and periodical articles are intentionally omitted.

The first edition of this bibliography was written at the time of vinyl LP albums and 35mm film reels. This update attempts to cover the migration of formats since then from records to cassette tapes to compact discs to mp3 computer files, etc. For sake of brevity changes in the format of a movie or a collection of songs is mentioned only in notes with dates or a date range given when readily obtainable.

In addition to a number of commercial films developed from this original set of footage in more modern formats, the filmed interview plays an important role which might be considered biographical in nature. Tape recorded talks, popular at one time, were superseded by the filmed interview and consequently the sound recording section is nearly all music in the most prevalent format: the compact disc. This film genre was so bountiful that it was considered expedient to omit citations when a commercial publisher could not be readily determined; instead providing a reference for the reader to various collections, online and elsewhere. Home movies have similarly been omitted.

Among trends noted was a shift within the subject area akin to the transition from the Gospels to the Acts of the Apostles in the New Testament. This shift is exemplified in the genre of the bibliography. Most of the material in this compilation are considered biographies, even when self authored, because they tend to revolve around a selective set of life events involving or related to Meher Baba. And Baba Himself said something to the effect, "My greatness will be seen in the lives of my lovers." In the event of an autobiography where Meher Baba is not the central figure, eg. Mercedes de' Acosta's "Here Lies the Heart" such have been treated as analytical entries citing chapter and verse of relevant passages. Excluded from this update are a number of tributes to Meher Baba's mandali and close associates since they are obviously biographies and a step further removed from personal narratives, even when they may detail that individual's relationship with Baba in an historical manner.

Arrangement.

Minor changes have been made in arrangement : calendars which had been listed by title in the monograph section were moved to serial section and combined. Under this scheme there were fewer items cited as monographs; but an increased need to search in the serials section as well if an item could not be found. Diaries were retained in monograph section.

Sort order follows the conventions set out in the first edition, though not strictly a letter by letter sort. Titles beginning with numerals follow a logical mathematical progression, and this also extends to numeration when spelled out. The bibliographical elements / and : act as end of file markers, with the former given precedence. Items with exactly the same title are listed in an ascending sequence of the editions, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc. The ampersand reads as if spelled 'and'.

Format

The modified ISBD format of the first edition is retained. Capitalization and punctuation vary slightly from the MARC formats. A number of prospective changes to international cataloging standards are set to occur this year with a greater emphasis on functionality within networked environments. It is hoped that this compilation reflects in a slight way some of the anticipated changes, and that the reader will become familiar and comfortable with it as the new code becomes more widely adopted.

Sections

We sought to avoid adding separate categories for new electronic formats which have come into creation since the publication of the original bibliography. To an extent this was successful, but with two exceptions. The first is a Videorecording section discussed in the following paragraphs. The second, placed at the end of the document as an Appendix, was devised to credit and cite any prior reference resources: such as previous bibliographies, directories, shelflists, card catalogs, or indexes of any date. A few area specific Internet portals have been included in it and readers are referred there for further information and research. Thus there are now five sections : monographs, serials, sound recordings, motion pictures, and videorecordings, plus an Appendix of resources. An index for the new material has not been included at this time since the full text of this online resource may be searched. It is hoped that a cumulative index will be compiled in the future.

At the time of the writing of the first edition only a handful of the 44 films listed were published works. According the preface these film reels, mainly from the fifties and sixties, were not reviewed and served initially as film stock. Now they are being preserved as archives. At this point no attempt has been made to catalog the duplication and reformatting of this footage beyond what is noted in the first edition and an occasional 'see also' reference. For these reasons all of these unpublished films appear within a separate Motion Picture section, rather than interfiling their supplied titles with the later, so that the update can start from that point forward as a new Videorecording section.

Research was conducted mainly at home, at Indiana University's H. B. Wells library or at local public libraries. Xeroxes and other photoduplications were very infrequently used as surrogates for the materials in this update. Collection efforts were supported by online catalogs and vendors websites but later verified for accuracy. Search engines and email were relied on for permissible supplied information while documentation was also sought.

Chief resources consulted include OCLC and RLIN bibliographic utilities, catalogs of the Library of Congress and National Libraries of European and Commonwealth countries, UNESCO Index Translationum database, and U.S. Copyright Office Public Catalog. Reference works in print include Bowker's Books in Print, Publisher's International ISBN Directory / Gale, and Social Science and the Cults / J. Saliba. Trade journals reviewed include The Awakener magazine, Broken-down furniture news, The Glow International, and Love street lamp post.

Shelflists were kindly provided by the Copyright Office at the Trust (Ahmednager, MS India), The Avatar Meher Baba Heartland Center (Prague, OK), Jim Migdoll Archive (Bangalow, NSW Australia), Meher Baba Center of Northern California (El Cerrito), and Meher Baba Center of The Twin Cities (St. Paul, MN) which also holds the Earl Starcher collection. Keyword searches within the websites of book vendors including Abebooks, Alibris, Amazon, Love Street Bookstore, Sheriar Books, and Searchlight Books were also used.

Acknowledgements.

The idea for an update initially came to life five years ago in conversation with Michael Ivey, at that time caretaker for the new Meher Baba Center in Prague, OK. and looking to start a library collection there. At about the same time Charlotte Allison gave away a nearly complete collection of LSLPs which she could no longer read due to failing eyesight, and so research began. Coincidentally some kind words of initial encouragement arrived in the form of a letter from Murshida Carol Weyland Conner.

We would like to thank Meher Baba for all the people who have helped in this endeavour, particularly to Margaret Eucker, Michael Haldeman, Leah Johnston, Ellen Kimball, Ben Leet, Chris Malakapali, Jim Migdoll, and Miriam Rose who lent or sent materials and helped with citations; to friends Steve Bly, Marti Faist, Dorene Fatula, and Paula Saffire for opening their personal collections for perusal; to Mona Brodin and Eric Solibakke for assistance with translations and issues of style; and to many individual authors, artists, editors, poets, producers and musicians who voluntarily gave of their time to field questions via email. In passing this manuscript along I'd like to thank Meher Baba for Caroline Beebe who has volunteered to edit it, to Frank Bloise, the webmaster, for his patience, and to Ward Parks, who has provided us with this opportunity to publish.

Discourses / by Meher Baba.

Historical note. The Discourses of Meher Baba were first printed in India in five volumes during the years 1939-1943. The discourses in the first four volumes were reprinted from Meher Baba journal. Four subsequent editions were printed up through 1954. These editions or printings were issued for limited distribution to followers of Baba. In 1967, Sufism Reoriented published a 6th revised edition in three volumes for public sale and distribution. Subsequently a 7th revised edition in one volume, edited by E. Jessawala, J. F. Kris and B. Natu, was published and widely distributed by Sheriar Press in 1987, serving as the basis for several translations as well. After a clamour for the return of the O.P. 6th ed.; including a private printing without copyright permissions, a four volume set was published as the revised 6th ed. by Sheriar Foundation in 2007.

The following entries attempt to reconstruct the printing history of the Discourses from those volumes available for review.
